

NOODLEit Consultant Code of Conduct

1. Deliver results for our clients, not just deliverables
2. The client's best interests are always top of mind
3. Make progress everyday
4. Agree to perform work only when there is justifiable benefit for the client
5. Confer with the client and consulting teams before making decisions that will significantly impact the project
6. Strive to always find better solutions and open the client's minds to new methods
7. Get the bad news on the table so a solution can be developed sooner than later. Bad news does not get any better with time – it only gets worse.
8. Develop and gain an understanding and embrace other's cultures and customs as it enhances communications and interactions.
9. Maintain the utmost level of confidentiality with client knowledge and intellectual capital
